Week 3: Identity and lapses

What a slip teaches, and returning to practice

Work through this on your own, and bring what came up to Monday's live session.

1. If you slipped this week, what was happening just before? If not, when did you come closest?

2. How do you usually speak to yourself after a slip? How would you speak to a friend?

3. What does returning to practice look like for you, in practical terms?

4. What is one thing a lapse has taught you about your triggers?
